WALDORF SCHOOL ANNOUNCES NOT-YOUR-TYPICAL AUCTION

Bourne, MA, April 22, 2009 – With new board and administrative leadership, the Waldorf School of Cape Cod is bringing a new twist to its annual auction fundraiser, scheduled for Saturday, May 9, from 5:30-7:30pm at the Canal Club of the Bridge Bourne Hotel, located at 100 Trowbridge Road near the Bourne Rotary.

In addition to the variety of offerings that the school community is well known for donating, this year's auction will include entertainment that is designed to help draw a new and larger crowd.

Gary Cannon, the school's new Administrator, says of the event, "Each year we have these tremendous donations. We wanted to attract a bigger audience than just our school community. When we started to think along these lines, things just started happening and folks started coming forward. Our showcase offering, for example, is amazing—a day on the movie set of 'The Lightkeepers,' directed by Daniel Adams, including a lunch with Daniel, Academy Award winner Richard Dreyfuss, and actress Blythe Danner."

Rounding out the field of donations, the school will be offering coveted Red Sox tickets, vacation homes, sports outings, and some unique handcrafted items. A detailed list of auction items will be available on the school's web site at www.waldorfschoolofcapecod.org.

They will start their silent auction from 5:30-7:30pm with the Irish beat of The Lindsays. While the Lindsays are playing, professional hula hoop entertainer Shenandoah will be displaying her uncanny hula hooping skills.

The live auction will begin at 8:00pm and will be hosted by Rob Peck, a motivational speaker, entertainer, and master juggler.

"It should be a great time!" says board member and auction co-chair Liz Lodge. "We've received some incredibly creative donations and the Lindsays are wonderfully entertaining. With the addition of juggling and hula hooping, what could be better?"

The Waldorf School of Cape Cod is a non-sectarian, non-profit organization serving families through Barnstable, Plymouth, and Bristol counties. The school is affiliated with both the Association of Waldorf Schools of North America and the Waldorf Early Childhood Association of North America. As the only Waldorf school in southeastern Massachusetts, the school serves over 150 children each year in its parent-child classes, preschool, kindergarten, and grades one through eight.

Further information about the auction is available by contacting the school's Administrator, Gary Cannon, at 508-759-7499, or by visiting the school's web site at www.waldorfschoolofcapecod.org.
